GREETINGS!

Dear friends,

I have the pleasure to present you the Report of the Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives, containing a summary of our work and activity for the two-year period, 2007-2008. As far as communication and transparency is concerned this report will help to be acquainted with all activities of the Centre and to share experience in the field of protection of rights and increase of access of citizens to the justice system.

The years 2007-2008 have marked important developments for our organization, as well as for its organizational and professional strengthening and implementation of projects. Our work for legal assistance to abused and poor women and girls has increased. During these two years about 1780 clients have been provided free legal assistance. The activity of the Centre has increased also in regard to the implementation of new laws on gender equality and fight against domestic violence that have entered into power recently. The activity for legal education of citizens of rural areas in particular has been intensified and inter-institutional cooperation with sister non-profit organizations and other governmental institutions have been reinforced.

Our organization has always believed that we would not achieve the results we intend to reach without the collaboration with our partners of the civil society and actors of the central and local government. Therefore we have paid a great attention to the strengthening of such collaboration not only through the implementation of joint projects, but through consultations and exchange of experience in the field as well. A distinctive aspect of our success represents the support of and cooperation with our donors, whom I thank in particular.

Finally, I would like to thank members of the Board and of the Staff of CLCI for their disposition and professionalism they have performed during this period.

Thank you,

Aurela Anastasi
Executive Director

I. OUR ORGANIZATION

The Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives is created in 1997 and is specialized in providing legal assistance to protect citizen's rights, of women and girls in particular, in promoting their legal education and lobbying for new legal initiatives to protect their interests.

1.1 CLCI AND ITS PARTNERS

Much of success, of achievements and professionalism of the organization is dedicated to our strategic partners in years. The Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives has assured its stability through the support of donors and partners.

Distinct thanks go to our partners and donors!

2. FIELDS OF ACTIVITY

CLCI contributes in the development of the community and especially of abused/poor women and girls. Our activities intend:

- ◆ To provide legal and psychosocial assistance to groups in need, especially to abused women by domestic or other acts of violence, to trafficked and poor women, through counselling, editing of documents and representation in court proceedings.
- ◆ Undertaking directly or in cooperation with others legal initiatives and lobbying processes for enactment and implementation of laws and other normative acts.
- ◆ Legal education with the view of making aware citizens of enjoying and protecting their rights.
- ◆ Preparing studies and monitoring draft-laws and implementation of legislation.
- ◆ Training of professional of the justice system and others.
- ◆ Inclusion of young people in activities of the Centre and establishment of pro bono teams with the view of training their members with the assistance of lawyers of the Centre.

3. KEY ISSUES OF THE ACTIVITY OF THE ORGANIZATION DURING THE REPORTED PERIOD 2007

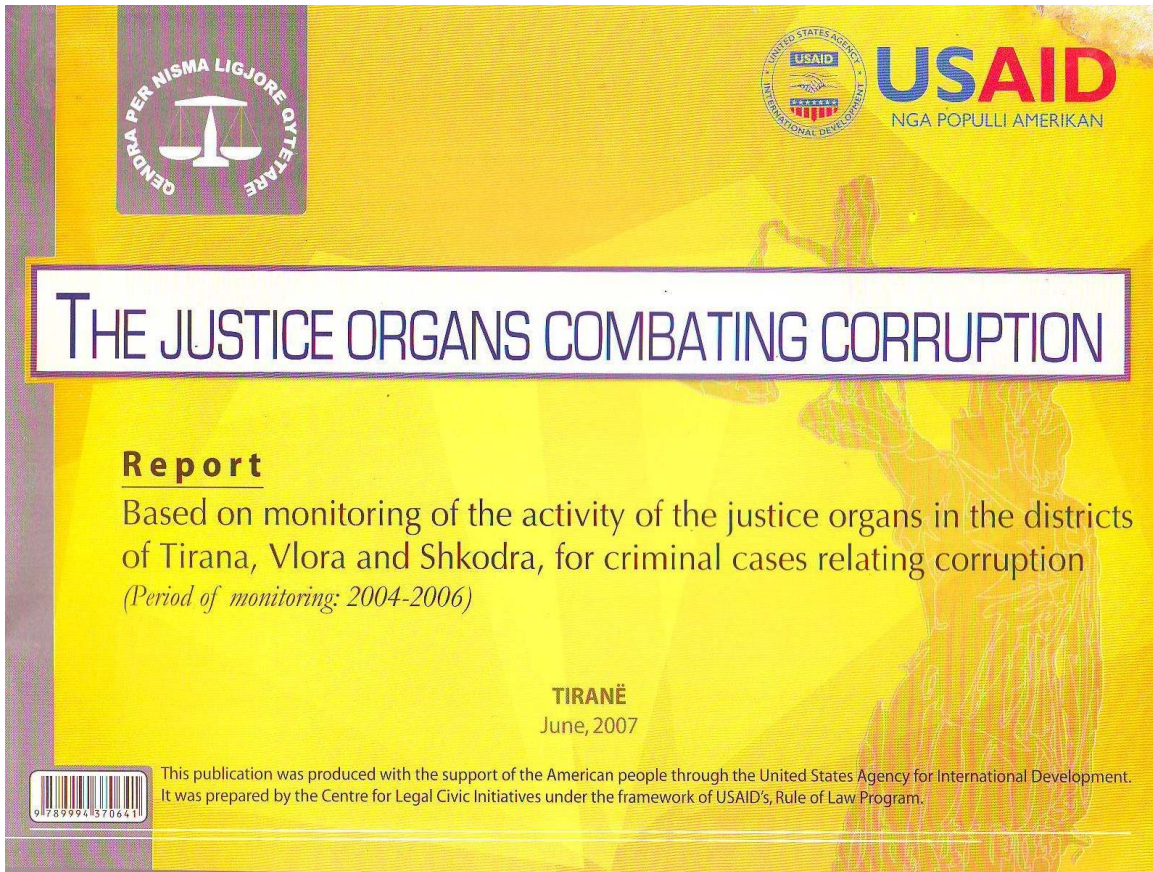

4. PUBLICATIONS

Professional studies and publications represent one of the strong points of the Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives. They are not only concrete results of our work, but also a lobbying instrument for our organization and other non-profit organizations operating in the field of human rights, especially regarding the access of poor/abused women and girls to the justice system.

Professional juridical newsletter, "The Law – A Chance for Women's' Development", no.1 (18), March 2008

The publication deals in particular with issues of justice closely connected with issues of traffic in human beings, domestic violence and other aspects of gender equality. The newsletter offers opportunity to the workers of justice bodies to be acquainted with the European legislation and judicial practices of international courts of most advanced democratic countries in relation to such issues.

“The Justice Organs Combating corruption”

The report has been prepared by Prof.As.Vasilika Hysi, Prof.Dr.Av. Aurela Anastasi, Dr.Altin Shegani, Jola Xhafo (Master degree)

This report is result of a monitoring process and has been prepared in the framework of the implementation of the project. “Increase of the access and trust of citizens in judiciary bodies through efficient implementation of the Albanian legislation is the most important means in the fight against corruption”. Monitoring process evidenced practices of Prosecution offices and courts of districts of Tirana, Shkodra and Vlora in trials and strikes against penal offences related to corruption during years 2004-2006.

Conclusions drawn from the monitoring of investigative and judicial practices have contributed in the improvement of practices of judicial bodies, as well as of those supervising them. The report contains important conclusions resulting from the monitoring process regarding gender prospect, which has brought to a new vision of analysis in this context.

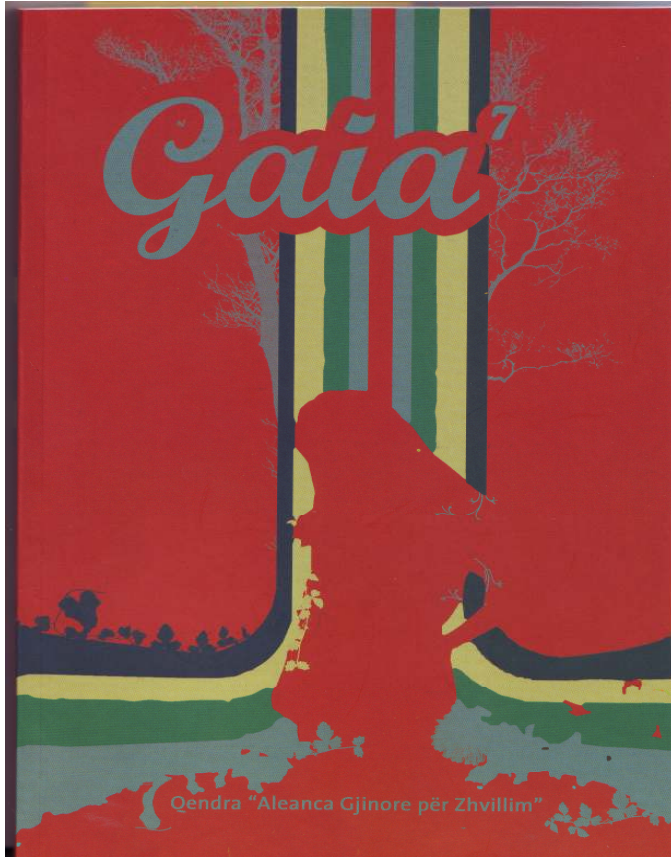

“Transparency-an approach towards the trust of the public”

This publication has been prepared in the framework of the project “Transparency-an approach towards the trust of the public”, implemented by the “Centre of the Gender Alliance for Development”, “Team 2000” and “The Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives”, sponsored by OSFA-Open Society Foundation for Albania, Soros Foundation”.

This publication contains some studies prepared by experts of the Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives, such as: “The Role of Organizations in Strengthening the Constitutional Order in Albania, Constitution and Non-Profit Organizations”; “Transparency of NPOs through their Registration after the Law“;”Fiscal Package and NPOs”; “Analysis of the Level of Transparency of the Civil Society in Albania”.

The studies intend to promote mechanisms for the increase of transparency of Non-Profit Organizations in Albania.

Ligji “Për masat ndaj dhunës në marrëdhëniet familjare” dhe roli tij në luftën kundër këtij fenomeni¹

nga Prof. Dr. Aurela Anastasi; Av. Aurela Bozo

I. Disa refleksione mbi rezultatet e monitorimit të vendimeve gjyqësore për lëshimin e urdhrave civilë të mbrojtjes nga gjykatat e rretheve gjyqësore tiranë dhe vlorë

1. Ligji “Për masa ndaj dhunës në marrëdhëniet familjare” (nr. 9669, datë 18.12.2006), shënoi një hapat më të sigurt për përafrimin e legjislacionit shqiptar me standardet ndërkombëtare në fushën e legjislacionit kundër dhunës në familje. Por, çështja e zbatimit të tij, është e domosdoshme pasi me mjetet ligjore që ofron, ai mund të shndërrohet në një faktor të rëndësishëm për parandalimin dhe reduktimin e dhunës në familje.

Ligji hyri në fuqi më 1 qershor të vitit 2007 dhe për periudhën 11 mujore gjatë së cilës kemi kryer këtë monitorim (1 qershor 2007- 30 prill 2008), janë identifikuar vetëm 20 vendime gjyqësore për lëshimin e urdhrave civilë të mbrojtjes nga dy gjykata: Tiranë e Vlorë. Aktualisht, gjendja ka ndryshuar mjaft. Në gjashtë muajt e fundit, zbatimi i ligjit është shtrirë jo vetëm në Tiranë e Vlorë, por edhe në pjesën më të madhe të rretheve gjyqësore të vendit. Rezulton se ka një rritje të ndërgjegjësimit të grave dhe vajzave për denoncimin e dhunës në familje. Kjo duket qartë kur shohim se numri i rasteve të trajtuara nga Gjykata e Shkallës

Study

The study is published in journal Gaia, by the Centre “Gender Alliance for Development” and is focused on achievements and challenges for the implementation of the law no.9669, of 18.12.2006, “On Measures against Domestic Violence”.

The findings and recommendations contained in it are based on the monitoring of decisions regarding protective orders or immediate orders of the court of the Judicial District of Tirana and Vlora for the period June 1st 2007-April 30th 2008.

The study has been provided to non-profit organizations operating in the field of human rights, women’s rights in particular and to governmental institutions and donors.

The law “On Measures against Domestic Violence”, a law on protection of family and fundamental human rights.

This leaflet has been designed to increase knowledge of community about legal means offered by the law no.9669, of 18.12.2006, “On Measures against Domestic Violence”.

The leaflet has been distributed to the community, clients of the Centre, abused women and girls, various non-profit organizations dealing with groups of citizens in need.

”Get acquainted with your rights, enjoy them”

This leaflet has been designed to make aware victims of trafficking in human beings and groups of people liable to be trafficked of their rights provided by the Albanian legislation for their protection..

The leaflet provides information on the services offered by The Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives in protection of the victims of trafficking and of the use of violence.

5. Organizational structure of CLCI

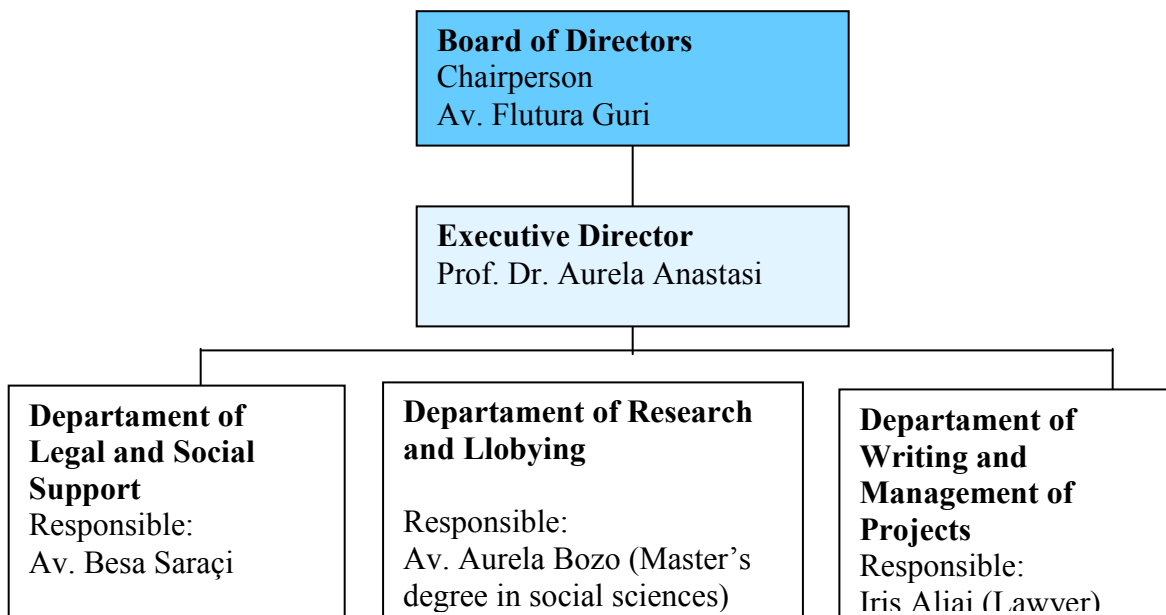

Board of CLCI

The Board of Directors is the highest decision-taking body of the Centre

The Board has been renewed in 2007. Members of the Board are:

1. Flutura Guri, lawyer, chairperson of the Board of Directors
2. Rezar Xhelo, member of the Board
3. Vjollca Mecaj, member of the Board
4. Teuta Rino, member of the Board
5. Virgjil Karaj, member of the Board
6. Petraq Pojani, member of the Board
7. Eralda Methasani, member of the Board

Organizational structure of CLCI

The staff of CLCI is working hard and vehemently to promote the access of the community to the justice system, and particularly of women and girls confronted with violence on gender basis. The major part of the staff is composed of lawyers specialized mainly in such fields as: constitutional law, family law, labour law, as well as in the implementation of law against domestic violence and observance of gender equality.

A part of our Centre's staff is engaged also in delivering lectures in public and private universities.

Apart from the cooperation with other organizations of the network, our Centre collaborates with a group of fellow workers and experienced experts. In the course of last two years there are engaged at the Centre 80 students of the Faculty of Justice from the University of Tirana, University of Vlora and UFO University, organized in four pro bono teams at CLCI. Being supervised by the lawyers of the Centre, students have offered their contribution in legal counselling, edition of documents for the court or other institutions, in legal education of the community and raising awareness of the community to use all legal means through electronic and written media.

II. SERVICES AS PERCETED BY BENEFICIARIES

2.1 Interview with client D.M

”In the judicial district court of Tirana I heard about free legal services offered by the Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives. I came to the Centre and I was offered immediately psychosocial service and the lawyer of the Centre advised me and prepared the writ for protection and represented me in the court, which issued the order for protection. I understood that I am not alone and that the matter of the violence in the family is a disturbing matter not only for me, but for the entire society”.

2.2 Interview with the member of pro bono team, Alban Duraj

”The experience at the Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives has been very useful for me. It was the first experience at a centre that offers free legal services for people in need. It helped me embody theoretical knowledge. Following my training by the Centre for the implementation of the law “On Measures against Domestic Violence” I have been involved in various activities such as: legal counselling and editing of acts (mainly writs for protection and dissolution of marriages addressed to the court) for abused women and girls, in raising awareness of the community through electronic and written media. It has been a very good opportunity to start the long Road of a professional.”

“Increase of access and trust of citizens in the organs of justice through effective implementation of the Albanian legislation as an important tool in the fight against corruption.”	December 2006- July, 2007	Casals & Associates	23 992 EUR	Tirana, Shkodra and Vlora

The project met the increase of effectiveness of the justice system and public administration institutions in the fight against illegal corrupt practices by increasing the level of awareness and responsibility of judges, prosecutors, public administration and community in order to prevent and combat corrupt practices.

OBJECTIVES AND INDICATORS OF PERFORMANCE
Objective 1: To increase the sensitivity and responsibility of the relevant state structures, courts, prosecution and public administration bodies in the early stages of investigation, trial and prosecution of acts against state authority committed by state officials or public services, and other related works of corruption directly or indirectly.
Indicators of accomplishment	. Monitoring the activity of structures and relevant bodies in the prevention and punishment of corrupt acts was a very important tool in relation to increasing their sensibility. Legal experts have prepared files to perform monitoring, a monitoring file for the court and another for the prosecutor, which played a crucial role in identifying issues, facts and problems . Through these files there were gathered data on the type of committed acts of corruption, data on the person denounced and tried, in relation to age, gender, education, occupation, employment, data on the fact if the corruption work was done in collaboration or not, data on the length of the investigation and trial process, causes of the cessation of issues, sanctions, the measure of punishment sought by the prosecutor and imposed by the courts, data on the reference to international acts ratified by the Albanian state in relation to corruption, data if the civil lawsuit filed in the criminal process during the trial of cases, data on alternative sentences given by courts, etc..

Monitoring findings were made public through the publication of the study "The Judiciary Bodies in Fighting Corruption" which contributed to the further qualification of the justice system professionals. This paper identified various issues in the context of the activity of judicial bodies and noted the important conclusions and recommended improvements in the legal system and judicial practices.

The study served first of all the justice system professionals, judges, prosecutors and lawyers in particular.

There were highlighted not only problems of the activity of the organs of justice, but also of the implementation of a fair and honest judicial process, with the view of respecting and protecting fundamental rights and freedoms during this process.

Objective 2: Increase the level of information and active role of citizens of being eventually involved in denunciation, prevention and prosecution of corruptive acts.

Indicators of accomplishment

The study "The Judiciary Bodies in Fighting Corruption" and publication of its findings in written and electronic media have contributed to raising awareness of the community in denouncing corruptive acts.

The study highlighted the practices followed by the prosecutors and courts to judge and attack offenses related to corruption, making them known to the public. This study has helped to inform the citizens and increase their confidence in the relevant bodies.

There were prepared TV programmes in Shkodra, Vlora and Tirana, which contributed to increase public awareness on prevention and punishment of corrupt acts by legal means. A distinct contribute in increase community awareness was the dramatization of a trial related to corruption, performed by students of the Faculty of Law, University of Shkodra .

There were published several articles in written media as follows:

1. "Penal Code and Corruption", published in the newspaper

- "Shqip" on 28 July 2007, prepared by Jola Xhafo.
- 2. "Corruption, how to Fight it?", published in "Gazeta Shqiptare", on 3 August 2007, prepared by Vasilika Hysi
- 3. "Justice and the Fight against Corruption", published in the newspaper "Panorama", on 6 August 2007, prepared by Prof. Dr. Aurela Anastasi.
- 4. "Role of the Criminal Code in the Fight against Corruption", published in the newspaper "Republika", on 3 August 2007.

Objective 4: To analyze the existing legislation on the punishment of acts related to corruption and identify issues raised during the implementation of legislation in practice, and compare with standards of international acts and practices of advanced countries in the fight against corruption.

Indicators of accomplishment

The study includes the analysis of existing legislation for the punishment of acts related to corruption, its comparison with the standards set forth by international acts and experiences of other advanced countries in the fight against corruption, thus contributing to further improvement of legislation and its approximation with the international standards.

Objective 5: Study of issues from gender perspective, conclusions, generalizations and recommendations.

Indicators of accomplishment:

A questionnaire from gender perspective was prepared by a sociologist. This questionnaire was used by monitoring experts, who have filled out with data from final decisions of the courts subject to monitoring. Through this questionnaire gathered data on the gender of the person reported, the prosecutor's gender of the case, gender of the judge of the case, information regarding the legal qualification of the act of corruption and the sanction, the link between gender and type of committed corrupt acts, the link between the gender and sanctions given by the court, etc..

Through these questionnaires there were gathered data on the correlation between gender and suspended issues.

Through files of monitoring public administration there were gathered data on disciplinary administrative acts, data in general as well as by gender.

Objective 6: The study of transparency in public administration bodies in connection with corruption and fight against it.

Indicators of accomplishment: The study offered modest assistance to all state facilities developing and implementing policies in the fight against corruption, carrying out legal reforms and providing various expertises in this field. Lawyers and other employees of public institutions system were further qualified and become aware through this study.

Objective 7: Preparation and awareness of future professionals of the justice system.

Indicators of accomplishment During project implementation, CLCI has collaborated with students from the Faculty of Law, University of Tirana and Shkodra University. The work, practice and sensitivity of monitoring were forwarded to law students. There was created and trained the monitoring team, which successfully conducted the monitoring duties of prosecution and court practices in Tirana, and Vlora. There was performed dramatization of a trial impersonated by students of the Faculty of Law, FC. There were prepared 12 essays by students and the best essay selected was the essay prepared by the student of the Faculty of Law, University of Tirana, Alban Alimema, entitled "Corruption in Albania: Causes, consequences and fight against it through law enforcement". This essay was included in the publication "The Organs of Justice in the Fight against Corruption"

To make reality the implementation of the law against domestic violence in Albania" This project was implemented by the Network Against Gender Violence and Trafficking	Two years, 2008-2009	UNITED NATIONS TRUST FUND	36 709 USD	Rrëshen, Shkodër, Vlorë, Berat, Pogradec.

The project addressed the need to combat domestic violence in Albania, creating monitoring mechanisms and effective referral services, inter-sectional and sustainable at local level that would ensure effective implementation of the Law "On Measures against Domestic Violence", secondary laws as well as backing strategies. This project was implemented by the Network against Gender Violence and Trafficking, which includes as members the Association Reflestione, the Counseling Centre for Women and Girls, The Centre for Legal Civic Initiatives, Centre for Development and Gender Alliance and the Shelter for abused Women and Girls.

OBJECTIVES AND INDICATORS OF PERFORMANCE

Objective 1: Creating a functional reference model at the local level through the Councils against domestic violence to ensure a more sectional referral system which addresses violence against women effectively.

Indicators of accomplishment

Councils were established in the five districts were covered by the project. In these councils participated representatives of key stakeholders at the local level charged with the responsibility of dealing with domestic violence as provided by the law "On Measures Against Domestic Violence". Participated in these councils representatives of local social services; officers of specialized police unit against domestic violence, health care providers like doctors and nurses, judges, prosecutors, lawyers, legal medicine experts, representatives of Bailiff's Office, representatives of shelters and non-profit organizations offering rehabilitation programs, representatives of organizations of the community, teachers, parents and representatives of media. Victims of violence in family relationships were supported and were referred to from one actor to other actors.

Objective 2: To promote competence for staff in social services, health, police, criminal justice and educational systems as well as a higher level of accountability by public and private actors in preventing and combating domestic violence.

Indicators of accomplishment

There were held several two day workshops on the law "On Measures Against Domestic Violence" and the national strategy on domestic violence for local government staff, police officers, lawyers, representatives of the Department of Legal Medicine, Bailiffs Office workers, social workers, health Centres' workers and non-profit organizations dealing with domestic violence. The organization of these workshops increased level of awareness and knowledge of the role and responsibilities of responsible authorities as provided by the law 'On Measures against Domestic Violence" It increased also knowledge and capacities of representatives of authorities in addressing gender-based violence.

Objective 3: To increase awareness about domestic violence, to educate women about their rights and law, and to engage community members, in particular men and boys, in the campaigns against domestic violence.

Indicators of accomplishment

Due to public awareness campaigns, the radio spot used during the 16 days of activism against gender-based violence and due to campaign of white ribbons there was increased sensitivity of domestic violence and was fuelled a public debate about this issue.

Due to community workshops there was increased awareness on domestic violence, also through the perception that the issue of domestic violence should not be considered a private matter but a matter of society.

Objective 4: Building organizational capacity at the local level to monitor and analyze data on domestic violence, including a monitoring database on the progress made in implementing the law "On measures against Domestic Violence.

Indicators of accomplishment

Through commitment of the expert of the Legal Centre for Civic Initiative there were collected data on the implementation of the Law "On Measures against Domestic Violence" and domestic violence strategy, in Vlora. The data clearly reflected the effectiveness of the referral system established during the implementation of this project and needs to improve it in the future. Through the data collected and the report and prepared on this basis there were identified areas where improvements and interference are needed. This activity contributed in developing advocacy tools for law enforcement 'On measures against Domestic Violence "at the local level. Achieving the creation of a database on the progress made in implementation of this law served as an opportunity to strengthen cooperation with the central government and the exchange of experience in this field.
